DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Group I, Claims 1-12, in the reply filed on 4/5/2010 is acknowledged.
2. Claims 13-32 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 4/5/2010.

Information Disclosure Statement

3. The references cited in the PCT Search Report dated 2/14/2005 have been considered, but will not be listed on any patent resulting from this application because they were not provided on a separate list in compliance with 37 CFR 1.98(a)(1). In order to have the references printed on such resulting patent, a separate listing, preferably on a PTO/SB/08A and 08B form, must be filed within the set period for reply to this Office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
5. Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 recites "a first fluid divider" and "a second fluid divider", however, the structure of the element is unclear since it is only recited in terms of functional language. It is not clear if applicants are attempting to invoke 35 USC 112, sixth paragraph, by using the instant claim language. Clarification and/or correction is requested.

If applicant wishes to have the claim limitation treated under 35 U.S.C. 112, sixth paragraph, applicant is required to:

(a) Amend the claim to include the phrase "means for" or "step for" in accordance with these guidelines: the phrase "means for" or "step for" must be modified by functional language and the phrase must not be modified by sufficient structure, material, or acts for performing the claimed function; or

(b) Show that the claim limitation is written as a function to be performed and the claim does not recite sufficient structure, material, or acts for performing the claimed function which would preclude application of 35 U.S.C. 112, sixth paragraph. For more information, see MPEP § 2181.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

7. Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Stewart (GB 2097692).

With respect to claim 1, the reference of Stewart discloses a device (See Fig. 9 and image reproduced below) for contacting two volumes of fluid that includes a first channel having a fluid inlet (10) and a first fluid divider (23) for dividing the fluid in the first channel into discrete segments; a second channel having a second inlet (14) and a second fluid divider for dividing the fluid in the second channel into discrete segments; and a third channel (24) connecting the first and second channels.

Figure 9.

With respect to claim 2, the fluid dividers are capable of being in communication with sources of immiscible fluid.

With respect to claim 3, the source of immiscible fluid can be enclosed chamber (21,22) or the chambers on the substrate device.

With respect to claims 4 and 5, the first and second channels includes constructions (23).

With respect to claims 6-9, the channels in the device are structurally capable of providing the claimed contact angles and depend not only on the material of construction but also the properties of the fluid to be used in the device.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

10. Claims 10-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Stewart (GB 2097692).

The reference of Stewart has been discussed above.

With respect to claim 10, the reference discloses that droplets can be coalesced using a chamber (2) (See Figure 6). In the absence of a showing of unexpected results, the specific volume of the chamber would have been obvious based merely on the specifics of the reaction to be performed in the device.

With respect to claims 11 and 12, while the reference fails to specifically disclose the use of specific binding components within the system, the reference discloses that more complex variation of the system can be employed (See page 3, lines 70-75). As a result, it would have been well within the skill of one having ordinary skill in the art to employ additional reaction components, such as specific binding components, within the system for the known and expected result of performing biological assays as are conventional in the art.
